

You are invited to attend

Baylor School of Education Lecture Series

Public Schools: High-Stakes Testing, Community Factors and Economic Competitiveness

Dr. David Berliner

Regent's Professor of Education

Mary Lou Fulton College of Education, Arizona State University

February 5 and 6, 2009

www.baylor.edu/soe

BAYLOR
UNIVERSITY

Baylor School of Education Lecture Series Presents

Dr. David Berliner

Regent's Professor of Education
Mary Lou Fulton College of Education,
Arizona State University

ACADEMIC ADDRESS

How High-Stakes Tests Have Hurt America's Chances to be Economically Competitive

4:30-6 p.m. February 5

Bennett Auditorium on the Baylor Campus
(short reception following)

COMMUNITY PRESENTATION AND DISCUSSION

How Out-of-School Factors Affect School Achievement

8:30-10 a.m. February 6

Education Service Center, Region 12
Community Auditorium

Dr. Berliner's presentation and discussion continue the community conversation from the Waco Education Summit on preparing children to learn at school.

The Baylor School of Education Lecture Series seeks to engage the school, university and community in discussing important, relevant and challenging topics. The events are free and open to the public.

Baylor School of Education

254-710-3111 • www.baylor.edu/soe

Preparing Leaders, Impacting the World, Shaping the Future

BAYLOR
UNIVERSITY

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

One Bear Place #97304
Waco, TX 76798-7304