

Perkins School of Theology Returns to Mission Waco

Intensive 7-day class on homelessness

Mission Waco not only serves under-resourced and marginalized folks, but helps train middle-class Christians and community leaders to understand how best to empower and serve them, as well as learn from them. Once again, Waco becomes the site of Perkin's graduate level training for a one-week intensive on urban ministry and homelessness, to be held January 9-15 at the Mission Waco Training Center. Audit students outside of Perkins are welcome to attend classes for a fee. Call 753-4900 for more information.
